DEPARTMENTAL COUNCIL

The Departmental Council is a body of 12 members appointed by the Secretary of Education. The Council's primary responsibility is to advise the Secretary on all matters relating to the Department's operations, including the development and implementation of the Department's policies and programs. The Council also reviews and recommends to the Secretary the Department's budget and the Department's annual report to Congress. The Council's members are drawn from a wide range of backgrounds and expertise, and they represent the diverse interests of the Department's constituents. The Council meets regularly to discuss and deliberate on the Department's business, and its recommendations are given great weight by the Secretary. The Council's work is essential to the Department's effective and efficient operation, and its advice is invaluable to the Secretary in his or her role as the head of the Department.
